1. The financial year of the company ends on the Saturday nearest to the thirty-first day of January of the calendar year and starts on the following Sunday.
2. Annually, the Executive Board shall draw up annual accounts and shall deposit these at the company's office for inspection by shareholders, not later than five months after the end of the financial year, unless by reason of special circumstances this term is extended by the general meeting by not more than six months. Within this period, the Executive Board shall also submit the annual report.
3. Within the period referred to in paragraph 2, the Executive Board shall submit the prepared annual accounts simultaneously with the annual report to the Supervisory Board.
4. The Supervisory Board shall present its report on the annual accounts to the general meeting.
5. The company shall assign an auditor to audit the financial statements. The general meeting is empowered to make such assignment. If no such assignment is made by that meeting, the Supervisory Board or, if there are no members of that board in office or if it fails to make an assignment, the Executive Board shall be empowered to do so. The assignment may be withdrawn at any time by the general meeting and by the person who made the assignment; assignments made by the Executive Board may also be withdrawn by the Supervisory Board.
6. The auditor shall report on his audit to the Supervisory Board and the Executive Board. The auditor shall convey the results of his audit in a report attesting to the financial statements giving a true and fair view.
7. Articles 101, 102 and 103 and Title 9, Book 2 of the Civil Code also apply to the annual accounts and to the annual report.

Article 32. Adoption. Release.

1. The annual accounts shall be adopted by the general meeting.
The annual accounts may not be adopted by the general meeting if the general meeting has been unable to take cognisance of the auditor's report, unless the remaining information include a legal ground for the lacking of the statement.
2. In the general meeting of shareholders where the resolution to adopt the annual accounts is passed, a proposal to release the members of the Executive Board from liability for the exercise of the management and a proposal to release the members of the Supervisory Board from liability for the exercise of the supervision of the management, insofar as the exercise of such duties is reflected in the annual accounts or otherwise disclosed to the general meeting prior to the approval of the annual accounts, shall be brought up for discussion as two separate items.

Article 33. Dividend. Reservations.

1. a. From the profits - the positive balance of the profit and loss account - earned in the financial year last expired, first, insofar as possible, the dividend attributable to each of the holders of preference shares A is pro rata parte paid out to them.

The dividend in respect of the preference shares A will be expressed in a percentage of the yield basis A adjusted on a time proportional basis to the extent that the preference shares A have been issued or cancelled during the financial year last expired and will be determined in the resolution to issue such preference shares A for the first time. The preference share A annual dividend shall be declared each year on the date the company's annual accounts are adopted and shall be paid within 3 business days of such adoption. In the event that such dividend is not so paid, the company shall, simultaneously with the delayed payment of such dividend, pay in addition to the holders of such preference shares A an amount equal to the interest on such dividend in respect of each day such dividend is not paid by the company, calculated at an annual rate equal to the then current dividend rate.

In the resolution to issue preference shares A for the first time, it may be stipulated that the above mentioned dividend percentage in respect of the preference shares A concerned be periodically altered. In such case, the resolution shall also state the moments of alteration and, in detail, the manner by which the dividend percentage when altered shall be calculated.

The amount of dividend per preference share A, being the result of the above mentioned method of calculation, shall be rounded off upwards to entire cents.

The term "issue shares of a certain class for the first time" used in these articles of association shall also apply to a first issue of shares of a class after all shares of such class were cancelled in accordance with article 14 paragraph 2 sub a.

The yield basis A, applying to the preference shares A, amounts to three euro and forty thousand three hundred and fifty-five one hundred thousandth eurocents (EUR 3.40355).

In case of a partial repayment on preference shares A in accordance with article 14 paragraph 3, and also in case of a payment to holders of preference shares A in accordance with article 34 paragraph 3 sub b. the yield basis A shall decrease, as from the day on which the payment concerned shall become payable or is made payable, by an amount equal to the amount to be paid on each preference share A.

- b. In the event that for any financial year the payments referred to under a. cannot or cannot entirely be made because the profit does not so allow, payment of the deficit shall be made from the profit of the following financial years.

In that case, always insofar as possible, the dividend in arrears attributable to the holders of preference shares A, together with the dividend over the last ended financial year attributable to them, shall be paid first.

2. Subsequently, the Executive Board shall, subject to the approval of the Supervisory Board, determine which part of the profit remaining after application of paragraph 1, shall be allocated to the reserves.
3. The part of the profit remaining thereafter shall be at the disposal of the general meeting, provided that no further distributions can be made on the preference shares A.
4. If, over any year, a loss has been suffered, for such year no dividend on the ordinary shares shall be paid, without prejudice to the provisions of article 34 paragraph 2. In subsequent years, too, payment of dividend on ordinary shares shall only be effected when the loss has been cleared by profits. However, the general meeting may resolve to clear the loss to the debit of the distributable part of the capital and reserves, provided that, in order to clear losses, no charge may be made to the share premium reserve A.
5. The Executive Board may decide to pay an interim dividend. The decision is subject to the approval of the Supervisory Board.
6. No dividend shall be paid on the shares held by the company in its own capital. For the computation of profit distribution, the shares on which according to this paragraph 6 no dividend shall be paid, shall not be taken into account.
7. Furthermore, payments to shareholders are subject to articles 103, 104 and 105, Book 2 of the Civil Code.

Article 34. Distribution in shares and to the debit of the reserves.

1. The general meeting may resolve that a payment of dividend on ordinary shares be wholly or partly not in cash, but in shares in the company.
2. The general meeting may resolve that distributions to holders of ordinary shares be made out of the distributable part of the capital and reserves, except for the share premium reserve A. The provisions of paragraph 1 apply analogously. Distributions as referred to in this paragraph 2 shall not be made, if not all amounts due in accordance with article 33 paragraph 1 sub a. juncto b. are paid.

3. a. The Executive Board, subject to approval by the Supervisory Board, may, decide to effect payment of the amounts payable to holders of preference shares in accordance with article 33 paragraph 1 by such payment being charged to the distributable part of the capital and reserves, except for the share premium reserve A.
- b. The Executive Board, subject to approval by the Supervisory Board, may also decide to effect payment to the holders of preference shares A not being due in accordance with article 33 paragraph 1, however, exclusively by such payment being charged to the share premium reserve A. A decision of the Executive Board referred to in the previous sentence shall only be taken in case of a simultaneous or prior approving resolution of the meeting of holders of preference shares A and, on the basis of a simultaneous adjustment of the yield basis.

Article 35. Date for payment.

Payment of dividends and other distributions shall be announced in accordance with article 44.

Where it concerns ordinary registered shares, the Executive Board must be notified in writing of the intention to attend the meeting. Such notice must be received by the Executive Board not later than on the date mentioned in the notice of the meeting.
2. The rights to attend and vote at meetings pursuant to paragraph 1 may be exercised by a person holding a written instrument of proxy, provided that, in the case of ordinary shares the instrument of proxy is received by the Executive Board not later than the date stated in the notice convening the meeting, or in the case of preference shares A which are held by the trust office, the instrument of proxy is received by the Executive Board not later than at the signing of the attendance list prior to the commencement of the general meeting of shareholders.

In this matter the provisions of paragraph 1 up to and including 4 also apply on the understanding that:
 - a. the statement of the Necigef-participant as referred to in paragraph 4 does not have to include that the person mentioned shall remain beneficiary until the close of the meeting;
 - b. the requirement of entry in the register that has been designated for that purpose by the Executive Board shall substitute the requirement of depositing a statement as referred to in this paragraph 4.

As a minimum requirement, the person entitled to attend the meeting via electronic means of communication must be identifiable, he must be able to directly take note of the proceedings of the meeting and, if entitled, to exercise his voting rights. In the event of such further elections (not including the second free vote), each election shall be between the persons who participated in the preceding election, but with the exclusion of the person who received the smallest number of votes in that preceding election. If in a preceding election more than one person receives the smallest number of votes, it shall be decided by lot which of these persons should not participate in the new election. If there is a tie of votes in an election between two persons, it shall be decided by lot who is elected, without prejudice to the provision of the following paragraph.

4. If there is a tie of votes in a vote other than a vote for the election of persons, the proposal is thus rejected.
5. All votes may be cast orally. The chairman is however entitled to decide a vote by a secret ballot. If it concerns an election of persons, also a person present at the meeting and entitled to vote can demand a vote by a secret ballot. Voting by secret ballot shall take place by means of secret, unsigned ballot papers.
